Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Friends and Supporters,

The goal of A Child's Voice Child Advocacy Center, Inc. is to provide a coordinated community response to child abuse. A Child's Voice Child Advocacy Center, Inc. is a child-centered facility whose focus is to support and protect children and their involved caregivers, while coordinating the community response to abuse. We strive to enhance the response to suspected child abuse cases by combining the wisdom and professional knowledge of various investigative agencies and other professional organizations. These coordinated efforts provide the knowledge, skills, and resources necessary to assist suspected victims of child abuse as well as their families.

A Child's Voice continues to work with community partners to effectively and compassionately respond to incidents of child abuse in our community. The demand for our services continues to grow, so in 2021 the Board of Directors purchased additional office space in the same office park. This allowed for further expansion of our ability to provide services to the child victim and their caregivers. We look forward to the renovations on that building and moving forward in 2022 with our services.

Since serving our first family in May of 2009, our staff has shown dedication and commitment to providing the best services possible to the children of Newton and Walton counties. Our center continues to maintain full state accreditation within the Children's Advocacy Centers of Georgia (CACGA) and remains one of only 54 fully accredited centers in the state of Georgia. We are also one of only 30 of those CACs in Georgia accredited by both the CACGA as well as the National Children's Alliance (NCA). These accreditations assert that our center is financially sound and that our services are provided in a professional and standardized manner by appropriately trained staff of the highest quality.

The role of A Child's Voice Child Advocacy Center is to focus on the child's needs rather than focusing on the crime itself. With this, the forensic interview process is child-led and child-driven, allowing children to feel relaxed and engaged with interviewers. The adolescent age group often describes a feeling of "relief" and a "weight-off-of-my-shoulders" after the interview experience. When observing the body language of these teens, one can see a physical transformation take place from the beginning of the interview compared to the end of the interview. Healing begins for these children when the forensic interview ends. Following this process, the child victim is offered a medical examination based on information shared during the forensic interview process. The child is in control of the examination process and can choose to stop the examination at any time. A Family Advocate is available to provide support and answer any questions the child or family may have. The Family Advocate accompanies the child during the medical examination and also discusses concerns with the parents while the interview is in process. Family Advocates make referrals to counselors or therapists and will follow the case as long as the family requests our assistance.

Our center also offers training to adults in our community regarding child abuse, how to look for signs and how they should respond if a child discloses abuse. We want the community to know we are here to assist in any issues regarding child abuse and our services are free to victims of child abuse. In 2019, we were established as a chapter of Prevent Child Abuse Georgia as Prevent Child Abuse Walton and continue to partner with Prevent Child Abuse Newton in awareness activities.

I would like to thank all of the agencies that partner with us for their dedication to the children in our community and their commitment to the prevention and intervention of child abuse. We are appreciative of the many community members who have provided the support our center needs to achieve our mission each year. We thank you all for joining us in the fight for happy, healthy childhoods and for helping us ensure that every child has a voice.

We look forward to expanding our existing services in 2022 as we continue to work towards our vision of ending child abuse through a coordinated community response: Healing Today's Children – Protecting Tomorrow's.

Nancy S. Burgess
Executive Director
A Child's Voice Child Advocacy Center, Inc.

Letter from the Board Chair

Dear supporters,

It has been my pleasure to serve as the Board Chair this year and on the Board of Directors in some capacity since 2006. First, I want to thank our donors and assure them that our team of children's advocates and our Executive Director, Nancy Burgess, are good stewards of your money. Our team works tirelessly to meet the needs of the children of our community and fearlessly face tragedy everyday, all with a heart for children and their best interests as victims. Unfortunately, coming out of the pandemic, our team is seeing more and more victims and the time and costs of these services continue to rise.

This year the Board made the decision to invest in further expansion of our services and purchased a complimentary building across the street from our existing facility, to allow for more family advocacy and counselling. This purchase also allowed us to more efficiently utilize our existing facility to provide forensic interviewing and forensic exams in a more private and secure setting.

I am excited, humbled, and distressed to see our center grow, but as the populations of Newton and Walton County continue to increase, the need for our services grows correspondingly. Most of you will hopefully never have to experience our services, but if you do, please know what a tremendous team we have in place to make a sad event, tolerable. If you see a member of team, please thank them for what they do.

Lastly, I want to let local law enforcement how much we appreciate their partnership and our Board of Directors for their commitment to our organization.

D. Lee Garrett
Board Chair

LEAH'S STORY

Leah had a secret that made her feel sad and ashamed. Leah moved to Georgia with her mother, away from a lot of her family. Her mother was sick at times and they didn't have a lot of help. When her mother was sick, Leah's uncle would come over to watch Leah and her siblings. Leah's uncle began sexually abusing her at the age of 9. Leah's uncle told her that he was "checking her", which made Leah feel confused. She didn't understand what was happening. Leah's uncle continued to sexually abuse her until she was 12. Leah knew her mom was sick and needed help, and Leah didn't want to add any more stress to her mom by telling her about her uncle. When Leah was 12, Leah's mom found sexual material on Leah's phone and began talking with Leah about it. Leah began to feel comfortable sharing with her mom, and disclosed about her uncle. Leah's mom believed her and was supportive, and immediately called law enforcement to make a report and Child Protective Services was notified.

The next day, Leah and her mother went to A Child's Voice Child Advocacy Center. They were both nervous and didn't know what to expect because Leah would be talking about a horrible personal experience. After the tour and talking with the Family Advocate, Leah began to feel more comfortable. In the waiting area, she played with toys and began to relax. She even got to watch a movie.

After a few minutes, a trained forensic interviewer met with Leah and her mother. The interviewer asked Leah if they could talk in the interview room. After spending some time getting to know Leah, the forensic interviewer slowly began asking Leah about why she was there. It was hard for Leah to talk about the things her uncle had done to her for so long. The Child Protective Services worker and the law enforcement investigator watched the interview from another room, and the interview was videotaped so that Leah would not have to recount the painful details over and over again. Leah described in great detail all the horrible things her uncle had done to her.

During the interview, Leah's mom sat anxiously in the waiting room with a Family Advocate. Leah's mom disclosed that she herself had been sexually abused by her brother, Leah's uncle, but it was never reported. It was difficult for Leah's mom to talk about her abuse, and the fact that this was now happening to Leah, made her feel extremely guilty. Eventually, she too was able to talk about her anger, grief, and feelings of betrayal.

After the interview, the Child Protection Services worker, the family advocate and the law enforcement investigator talked with Leah's mom and realized she would be supportive of her and keep her safe. Leah had a medical examination by a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) in the center and, with the use of telemedicine equipment, a physician with Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, who was able to relieve some of Leah's greatest fears about her body. Leah's mother was also able to speak with the physician and the nurse to have her questions answered.

Continued

While Leah was receiving the medical examination, the team met quickly to review their notes. It was obvious that law enforcement had enough to proceed with their investigation and began acquiring search warrants, and getting statements from Leah's mother and other potential witnesses. After a thorough investigation, the uncle was arrested and interviewed by an investigator trained to interview child abusers.

During the next six months, Leah and her mother participated in therapy to help them deal with the trauma and turmoil created by the abuse. The Multi-disciplinary Team (MDT), consisting of Child Protective Services, law enforcement, the District Attorney's office, counselors, the forensic interviewer, family advocate, and medical professional, continued to meet to coordinate the investigation and monitor the family's need for support. Eventually, Leah's case was presented to the Grand Jury, who voted to indict. The case would be going to trial.

When it came time for the trial, the District Attorney's (DA) office was having difficulty contacting Leah and her mother. When they finally got in to contact with them, Leah told the DA's office that the abuse by her uncle never happened. It was revealed that Leah's entire family had come to town from another state for the trial, and there were concerns that the family was placing blame and pressure on Leah for what she disclosed about her uncle. There were also concerns that her mother was no longer supporting Leah like she had when Leah first came told about the abuse.

The prosecutor felt very strongly about the case and proceeded with the trial. When it came time for Leah to take the stand, she had to sit in front of her uncle with all the family sitting behind him in support. Leah wasn't able to talk about what her uncle had done and said that it didn't happen. However, Leah's recording of the forensic interview was played for the jury and they could hear all of her detailed statements. The forensic interviewer from A Child's Voice was able to testify about the dynamics of child sexual abuse, including recantation (when a child takes back what they said about the abuse) and what places a child at risk for recantation, including fear and lack of family support. Leah's mother also took the stand and, even though she didn't talk about Leah's disclosures, she did talk about her own abuse from Leah's uncle.

At the end of the trial, the jury found Leah's uncle guilty on all counts, and he was sentenced to life to serve 30 years in confinement. Months later, the prosecutor heard from the family and Leah's mother reported that she and Leah were doing well and thanked everyone for all of their hard work and help.

This story demonstrates the power of collaboration, the importance of education and therapy, and the vital education that forensic interviewers provide to members of the jury. Names and details have been changed to protect the confidentiality of ACV clients.

CLIENT FEEDBACK

All families have the opportunity to complete anonymous surveys about the services they receive from A Child's Voice. Here are some of their responses:

Staff provided excellent service, great communication, friendly staff, very professional, gave great detail about services and answered all questions

The staff were kind, courteous, and attentive. My children and I were very comfortable and felt like we were home.

How comfortable they made my children feel. It felt like they really cared

It was quick very understandable and very reasonable.

I had four children at the center for their forensic interview. The staff there went out of their way to accommodate all my kids by being professional, considerate, nice, and supportive. All of my kids, 3 girls and 1 boy were made to feel comfortable during a difficult time.

The comfortability from the staff, the atmosphere of of office and just the overall vibe is just very reassuring.

How compassionate they were and understanding and sympathetic and worked really well at understanding the process according to her age and making her feel comfortable/safe/secure

The staff was very helpful and welcoming during a very emotional time.

The staff catering to the children and being patient with them.

YOUTH FEEDBACK

Teens now have the opportunity to complete anonymous surveys about the services they receive from A Child's Voice. This is offered to youth ages 10-17 while at the center. Here are some of their responses:

Everyone cared about the situation.

Y'all are every nice people and a great listener too.yall make feel safe and comfortable it's a amazing place to come to if you need help or need advice

The peace and environment. I felt safe with the people, and felt like I could tell the truth.

I liked how they listened to me

I felt like I was safe to answer questions, I didn't feel like I was being interrogated.

That it is a safe space to tell your story

Feels more like a home environment than an office.

The people are really nice and so understanding

What did you appreciate the most about your experience at the Center?

PARTNER FEEDBACK

A Child's Voice is an integral part of the Multi-Disciplinary approach to serving child victims of abuse. See feedback from partner agencies below.

"A Child's Voice CAC is truly the first response in diminishing the occurrence of re-traumatization for children, in Newton and Walton Counties. With their highly trained and empathetic forensic interviewers and family advocates, these families are guaranteed to get the service they need and deserve, in an impossibly difficult situation. The in-house forensic medical exams that are performed by a SANE, give another added element of competence, empathy, and best-practice care. A Child's Voice CAC gathers referrals best suited for these children to ensure they are getting quality therapeutic services from licensed mental health professionals, trained in trauma-based therapies, to continue their healing process. A Child's Voice CAC also efficiently runs mandatory monthly Multi-Disciplinary Team Meetings in both counties, with DFCS, law enforcement, the DA's Office, appropriate school personnel, medical consult, and mental health professionals, to ensure the continuance of justice, protection, and healing within these families. A Child's Voice CAC is an imperative service in these communities that works endlessly for the most vulnerable population. Newton and Walton Counties are lucky to have them."

Kelsey Layman-Ferguson, LCSW (Southeastern Psychological Associates)

"A Child's Voice (ACV) is an integral community partner to the district attorney's office and an invaluable asset to the communities of Newton and Walton County. Our offices handle a large number of cases every year in which ACV is a part of. These cases involve the most vulnerable members of our community, that being young children. I have been a part of handling hundreds of these cases and know firsthand how important the role ACV provides. The forensic interviews conducted by ACV are often played in court during trials and hearings and their team often testifies in court. The forensic interviewers are well-trained and in conducting these interviews and the interviewers are always prepared and professional when testifying in court.

Further, ACV is a member of the Walton County Multi-Disciplinary Team (MDT) that meets every month with law enforcement, DFCS, counselors, and our office to discuss any new cases involving child victims. These meetings provide an invaluable service to not only determine what further action needs to be taken in a case, but also to determine what additional steps can be taken to help the child and the family involved.

ACV is also involved in educating the community. They regularly provide trainings for law enforcement as well as seminars to those within the community. I am grateful for ACV and their hardworking, dedicated staff. If anyone has any questions or requires more information, please feel free to reach out to me."

Randy M. McGinley, District Attorney (Alcove Judicial Circuit)

About A Child's Voice

MISSION

A Child's Voice exists to strengthen a coordinated community response to situations of child maltreatment, including sexual abuse, physical abuse, and witness to abuse and homicide. ACV does this by integrating the existing resources of law enforcement, child protection, prosecution, medical, and therapeutic agencies, so that perpetrators are held accountable for their actions and the children are protected. A Child's Voice also exists to facilitate and support organizations and individuals whose efforts are directed toward child abuse and prevention.

WHAT IS A CHILD ADVOCACY CENTER?

The purpose of a CAC is to provide a child-friendly environment where forensic interviews and medical examinations can be performed in order to assist law enforcement officers and child protective services workers in completing their investigations. This helps to ensure that the child can be protected, the guilty are prosecuted, and the innocent are not wrongly charged. Interviews are conducted by professionally-trained forensic interviewers and are videotaped to avoid multiple interviews and preserve statements for future legal actions. Children are also able to receive specialized medical services from staff that are familiar with such situations and know how to relate to the children's fears as well as the medical issues specific to this type of trauma. Children and families are offered support, education, and crisis intervention while at the center, and are referred as appropriate for counseling services. In addition, CACs engage in community education to help in the prevention of child abuse and to teach appropriate responses by adults.

HISTORY

A Child's Voice is a private 501(c)3 non-profit organization that was established in 2006 as a collaborative effort by different agencies in the child protective services and law enforcement fields of the Alcovy Judicial Circuit, along with the Child Protection Center at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta (CHOA). In December 2008, A Child's Voice CAC relocated to Loganville where we remained until December 2012, until a permanent location was purchased in Social Circle, Georgia. After some renovations, we moved in April 2013. The new location is centralized to our service area and has allowed us more space to provide our services to children in a private and child-friendly setting. In 2018, we acquired additional office space in the same office park to allow us to serve even more families in the same convenient, safe, and confidential manner. In 2009, the center was awarded full membership into the Child Advocacy Centers of Georgia (CACGA), the organization that sets standards and monitors compliance for child advocacy centers in the state of Georgia. Also that year, the Child Abuse Protocol was amended to include participation by A Child's Voice. In 2010, the center received full accreditation from National Children's Alliance (NCA), the national organization that monitors compliance of child advocacy centers across the United States. We have continually maintained full accreditation with both organizations.

About A Child's Voice

FACILITY

When the children come in with their accompanying caregivers, there is a comfortable waiting area with a variety of age-appropriate toys, books, movies, and games. There is also an interview room, a separate viewing room for law enforcement, child protective services, and/or other involved partners, and a private medical exam room. In 2021, we purchased additional space in the same office park that includes a second interview room, observation room, family advocacy space, and other offices so that we can serve more than one family at a time, while still providing a confidential and safe place for children and their families.

SERVICES

Forensic Interviews

A forensic interview is a conversation between a child and specially-trained professional that is conducted for the purposes of finding valuable information that can assist law enforcement and child protective services with investigations. Questions are open and non-suggestive, and interviews take place in a non-threatening, neutral, and child-friendly environment. During a forensic interview, only the child and the Interviewer are present in the room. Conversations are audio and video recorded to prevent the need for multiple interviews. MDT Partners observe live from a separate room. Interviews are considered evidence in the criminal investigation, and are often played in court. Forensic interviewers often testify in court as expert witnesses regarding the forensic interview, child abuse dynamics, and more.

Forensic Medical Exams

Forensic medical examinations are conducted following a forensic interview when a child has disclosed sexual or severe physical abuse and the exam is deemed necessary. Exams are performed by highly trained nurses and are supervised by specialized physicians at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta via telemedicine. Exams are tailored to the statements made by the child in the forensic interview and are used for evidence collection, testing, and treatment. Medical exams are not invasive, and should cause children no pain. Children also receive reassurance about their bodies and their health and answers to any questions or concerns they may have.

Telemedicine

Our center continues the relationship with Children's Healthcare of Atlanta as a telemedicine location. This allows healthcare professionals at our center to conduct exams with oversight from a specialized pediatrician or nurse practitioner at CHOA.

This vital partnership allows our clients to receive:

- Increased availability of medical experts to evaluate and provide second opinions during exams
- Reduction in the number of children and professionals traveling to distant locations for medical evaluations or requiring multiple appointments
- Improvement in local expert court testimony with subsequent increase in successful court actions
- Opportunity for a unique training experience for local health care providers

About A Child's Voice

Family Support

Every family who visits our center is assigned a family advocate who works with them from the initiation of the case. The specially trained family advocate provides support, education, connections to resources, and an on-going relationship to ensure any new needs are met with assistance. The Family Advocate explains the details of the appointment, answers questions, and is a safe space for caregivers to process the many emotions that come with learning ones child has experienced abuse, often by someone you know and trust.

Counseling Referrals

Research shows that in order for children to heal from abuse, they need supportive caregivers and effective treatment. Our family advocates work with counseling partners who are trained to treat child victims of abuse to ensure all clients have access to effective, evidence-based treatment. Since child abuse is often an issue that affects the whole family, the family advocate is additionally able to connect caregivers, siblings, and families with counseling when needed. Thanks to the Victims of Crime Act Grant and the Georgia Crime Victims Compensation Fund, financial difficulties or a lack of insurance is no longer a barrier when receiving treatment. These programs allow individuals to receive counseling at no cost and A Child's Voice handles the paperwork and billing. Should a family not meet the criteria for these programs, family advocates use their creativity and resourcefulness to guarantee that families have access to counseling and the support they need.

Support Group

A Child's Voice launched its first Caregiver Support Group in 2020. This group is designed for parents and caregivers of children who have experienced sexual abuse and it is an opportunity to meet others who are working towards healing and understanding. Group members are able to openly share thoughts, success, and frustrations, while also learning coping and communication skills. This group is offered virtually and is open to current clients or any other caregivers who meet the criteria. The Support Group helps ensures caregivers have what they need to support their children's healing.

TRAINING & COMMUNITY EDUCATION

A Child's Voice continues to serve individuals and agencies in the community through training and community education events. We offer Mandated Reporter Training, Darkness to Light's Stewards of Children Training, Connections Matter, and can tailor training events to the needs of specific communities. We also strive to bring relevant training to those in our community. These trainings can be offered virtually or in person.

PREVENT CHILD ABUSE GEORGIA- WALTON CHAPTER

A Child's Voice is Prevent Child Abuse Georgia- Walton Chapter, a local affiliate of Prevent Child Abuse Georgia. We serve as the hub of child abuse prevention for our community- leading events in April for Child Abuse Prevention Month and educating the community throughout the year on how they can partner with us to prevent child abuse.

What's new in 2021

COVID-19: Moving Forward

Like so many others, staff at A Child's Voice are still overcoming COVID-19 and the added stressors it brought. However, we are proud of the adjustments we have made since the pandemic. We are able to offer virtual trainings and meetings thanks to updated equipment/systems and a new comfort level with this feature. We remain flexible to meet the needs of our clients and partners.

Support for our Partners

In 2021, staff were intentional about supporting our multidisciplinary team partners. In addition to regularly offered training at monthly MDT meetings, staff facilitated several trainings for the Walton County Sheriff's Office, Monroe Police Department, and Covington Police Department about A Child's Voice services, the dynamics of sexual abuse, and how to better respond to incidents of child abuse. Our partners with Newton DFCS attended a screening of the film "Portraits of Professional Caregivers" and a discussion surrounding the toll this work can take. These offerings allowed moments for debriefing and support with the partners who work alongside us each day.

Homeland Security Training

In June, A Child's Voice hosted a training facilitated by Homeland Security Investigations. This 3-hour training focused on human trafficking and was facilitated virtually. Presenters included Homeland Security Investigations Forensic Interviewers, victim advocates, special agents, and Assistant United States Attorneys. This training was offered free of charge for members of the Newton and Walton Multi-disciplinary Teams who partner with us to investigate cases of child abuse.

New Building

In late 2021, A Child's Voice purchased a second location! This second building is located in the same office complex as our current building. We have rented half of this building for the last few years, but purchasing the entire building will allow us to serve more families, offer new services in the future, and allow all staff offices to be under the same roof in one wing of the building. We look forward to sharing the renovation progress and moving in to the new space early 2022.

To support this purchase, a capital campaign was executed in the final quarter of 2021. The community was greatly supportive of this endeavor and we raised over $20,000 towards the mortgage of the building. Funds are still requested to continue supporting this project.

Multi-disciplinary Team

The backbone of the child advocacy center model is the multidisciplinary team. Functioning as a multidisciplinary team allows us to reduce trauma for child victims and effectively coordinate investigation and care for these cases.

The multi-disciplinary team is composed of representatives from law enforcement, child protective services (DFCS), the district attorney's office, medical, mental health and A Child's Voice staff. These representatives work together to coordinate the intervention in order to reduce potential trauma for children and families. This team facilitates support for families and children, ongoing involvement of necessary individuals in the case, and effective communication between all involved agencies.

Referrals are made to A Child's Voice when local law enforcement and child protective service agencies initiate an investigation into allegations of child abuse or when a child has witnessed a violent crime. Below are 2020 referring agency statistics based on law enforcement jurisdiction.
